Chivers Trust Board Recruitment

Information for prospective members who are interested in joining the board of trustees

Chivers Trust is a charity which was established in memory of Roy Chivers in 2007. Chaired by Caroline Chivers, the trust provides grants that enable young people in Norfolk and Suffolk to participate in projects that build confidence, creativity and aspirations through the arts, giving children from disadvantaged backgrounds the opportunity to take part in projects involving live singing, drama, music, dance, movement and working with professionals across art forms.

Over the past two decades, Chivers Trust has supported hundreds of young people to take part in projects, performances and workshops across the region, often in collaboration with schools, theatre groups, arts organisations and professional performers. You can view an archive of projects that the Trust has supported on the website chiverstrust.org.uk.

This is an exciting time to join the Board as the Trust strengthens its governance and extends its reach. We are looking for individuals who share a passion for providing engaging opportunities for young people and can bring experience, insight and enthusiasm to the work of the Trust.

We encourage applications from people of all ages, backgrounds and experiences, to help ensure that the Board reflects the communities we serve. We would also particularly welcome applicants with experience in one or more of the following:

- Public State Education, youth or community engagement
- Arts and cultural development
- Charity governance or strategic planning
- Marketing, partnerships or communications
